Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 24 January 2002.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTIONPriority

Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority based on an application filed in Canada on December 27, 2000. It is noted, however, that applicant has not filed a certified copy of the Canadian Patent Application Number 2,329,634 as required by 35 U.S.C. 119(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 4, 5, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hewitt et al. (US 5,735,195). Hewitt discloses a device for compressing a load of particulate material comprising: a frame (see fig. 4) mounted/mountable on a support (6) so as to elevated (see fig. 1) over a load of particulate material in an open-top trailer (2); a drum roller (15); a

adjacent the drum roller (see fig. 1). The windrower inherently windrowing a heaped portion into a windrow of material generally centrally aligned with a longitudinal axis of the trailer as the trailer and the windrower are translated relative to one another along the longitudinal axis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-3 and 6-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hewitt et al., in view of Hering (US 4,077,189). Hewitt discloses the windrower having a planar compressing surface (see fig. 1). Hewitt does not disclose the compressing surface is a converging surface. However, the patent to Hering, in a related particulate material gathering and compressing/baling art, teaches windrows (102) having a converging load compression surface that formed a funnel for gathering material to be compressed/baled (see fig. 1). Herring teaches this construction (i.e. funnel shaped windrow) so to efficiently gather material in a location for improved compressing/baling. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Hewitt's planar compressing surface with a converging surface, as taught by Hering, in order to achieve the overall sweep of the material (see abstract).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art listed on the attached PTO 892 are cited to show relevant gathering and compressing device.
